STORYBOARD

01

Script

Voiceover: "It all began in a city where even the clouds couldn't be bothered to get out of bed."

Drone shot gliding over a fog-drenched skyline, slowly zooming in on the chaos beneath the calm.

02

Script

Voiceover: "Every great journey starts by dodging a white van and questioning your life choices."

Wide angle street-level shot. Crosswalk crowded. Camera tracks left as our walker merges with the tide of pedestrians.

03

Script

Voiceover: "And then, just like that, he turned. Not for drama—he simply forgot where he was going."

Medium shot from behind. Man abruptly pivots with the weight of a BBC detective. Slight breeze in coat. Noir music optional.

04

Script

Voiceover: "Meanwhile, in the woods, someone else was also walking... probably to escape a dinner party."

Static wide shot. Autumn forest. Lone figure strides purposefully.

05

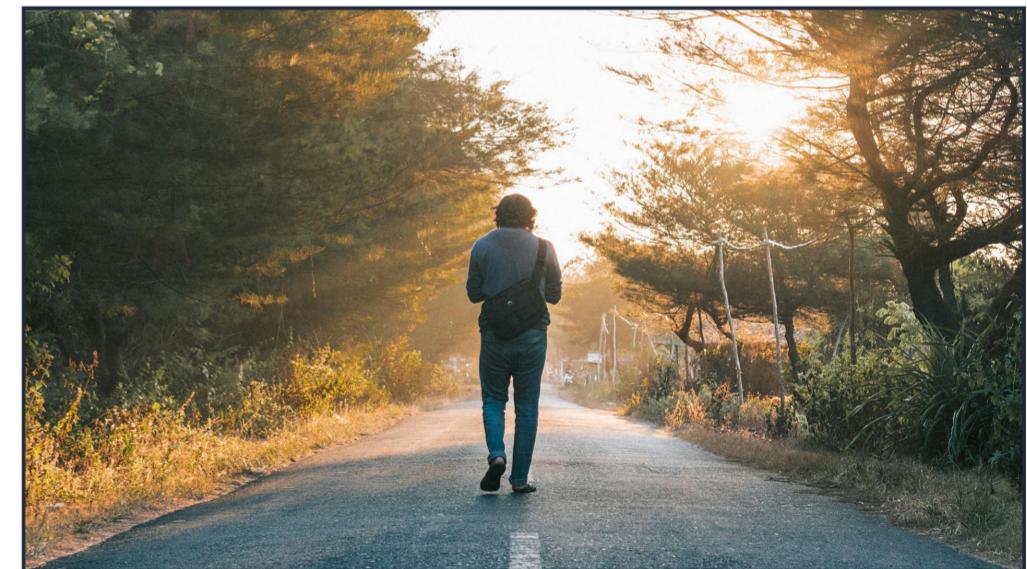

Script

Voiceover: "Elsewhere, another walker defied urban decay with a red backpack and main character energy."

Side-profile tracking shot. She walks like she's about to deliver a TED talk.

06

Script

Voiceover: "And finally, as the sun rose, so did existential dread—but he kept walking. Because that's what we do."

Backlit shot. Golden hour. Long road. Camera slowly pulls back like the end of a film.
